

Claim

2. A device for running and walking comprising an about parallel to upper arm pendulum means for each lower arm, and a frontal protrusion means with support to said parallel to upper arm pendulum means that ensures each parallel to upper arm pendulum means is about parallel to each respective upper arm.